WHAT IS ATTACHMENT?

“After fourteen years, though, a huge change took place when we discovered the unseen forces that determined how we loved. We realized our lessons in love didn’t start in our marriage. They started in infancy and lasted all the years we lived with our parents. Our experiences growing up, good and bad, left a lasting imprint in our souls that determined our beliefs and expectations about how to give and receive love.”

SAFE HAVEN MARRIAGE (HART & MAY, 2003)

Psalm 38: 8-10 "I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart. Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee. My heart paneth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.

Psalm 139:1-2 "O lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off."

Psalm 18:2 "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower."

3. Schedule some time to sit down with your spouse and talk through your respective attachment styles.
4. Focus on seeking understanding and identifying your “couple cycle” created when you seek to emotionally connect based on your attachment style, but end up feeling disconnected.

Helpful Questions / Thoughts

- When you feel disconnected, what is your default option – your main move in the couple cycle?
- How do you PULL your spouse into this couple cycle – maybe trigger attachment panic in him / her?
- Name two concrete and specific things a safe accessible, responsive, and engaged spouse would do on a typical day and how those things would make you feel.
- Seek to not personalize your spouse’s moves in your couple cycle.
- Continue to practice the skill of self-reflection to learn about your own emotional experiences.
